Entertainments.

HYPERION.

The New Year's attraction, on Wednesday, January 1, will be "Charles's Aunt," which will be presented by the original New York company under the management of Charles Frohman. The fun there is in "Charles's Aunt" is not its only recommendation. There is lots of pretty sentiment, too; indeed, there are half a dozen complete love stories, and each has a most important bearing in the development of the farce. The action begins with two college chums inviting their sweethearts to luncheon to meet the millionaire aunt of one of them, a widow who hails from Brazil, "where the nuts come from." The aunt does not arrive, but the young girls do, and in order that they may with propriety be kept to lunch the chums get another college chum to personate the Brazilian aunt. Then the fun begins. The bogus aunt hugs and kisses the girls to the deep chagrin of their lovers. She gets up a flirtation with two middle-aged gentlemen and secures proposals of marriage from them. There is a great whirl of merriment through three acts, when the mystery is cleared, and all ends happily. Sale of seats now open.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

As a fitting close to one of the most successful years that Manager Bunnell has ever had at the Grand he chose to present to his patrons for the concluding engagement of the year "The South Before the War," which is admitted by all to be one of the best plays in which the south is illustrated that is on the road today. The house last evening was crowded to the doors, many not being able to gain admission. The specialties that are introduced, including prize buck and wing dancing by real negroes, Miss Katie Carter gave a most excellent wing dance, as did also Symonds and Pasture. The hit of the performance were made by Perry, the human frog, and Billy Williams, the female negro impersonator. Billy Williams is one of the best known actors that come to New Haven. He has been seen many times at the old American theater on Church street. There are three distinct quartets in the show, the Eureka quartet, Luke Pully, William Hill, Louis Francis, W. H. Scott; the Buckeye quartet, H. M. Johnson, Joe Chandler, Al Butler and William Carter; the Standard Pythian quartet, William Cotrell, W. C. Watts, Ed DeMews and R. L. Scott.

Every performance concludes with a prize cake walk, which in itself is worth the price of admission. The entire performance is one that should be witnessed by all lovers of negro performances. It will be repeated this afternoon and evening and at the special holiday matinee New Year's day; also New Year's night. All those who desire tickets for any performance should apply at once.

On Friday afternoon all ladies who attend the performance will be presented with a box of candy as a New Year's gift from Mr. Bunnell.

The attraction for three nights and Friday and Saturday matinees, commencing Thursday evening, January 2, will be a perfect production of the successful comedy drama, "She Couldn't Marry Three," interpreted by an efficient company headed by the universal little favorite, Lillian Kennedy, who is a bright, pretty and versatile actress, who has won the hearty approbation of press and public in many of America's leading cities.

POLL'S WONDERLAND THEATER.

There was a holiday rush of patrons at Poll's Wonderland theater yesterday afternoon and last evening. The capacity of the house was taxed to its utmost. The extraordinary novelty of five newshows entertaining an audience was enough to interest every one. They sang delightfully, their voices being fresh and pure and rich, and harmonizing most beautifully in the glees and choruses they render. Their dancing, too, is capital and altogether their work is as rare a novelty and as interesting as can be imagined. There are other interesting and attractive specialties on the bill also, the wonderful Newton mystifying and amazing all with his phenomenal exhibition of voice manipulation. Others who are most charming entertainers are Mr. Harris and Miss Walters, Will P. Denney, Mr. and Miss Siebert, the Brown brothers, Mr. White and Miss Granger, Miss Lizzie Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Hyde and Miss Leola. It is just the kind of a show to make a holiday pass pleasantly, and in order to accommodate every one tomorrow so far as possible extra shows will be given in the afternoon and evening.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. Sarah E. Treat.

Mrs. Sarah E. Treat, who died at her home, No. 122 State street, on Sunday, at the age of sixty-three years, was the widow of Munn Treat, who died thirty years ago. Mrs. Treat had lived in the house where she died for thirty years, and was the owner of that portion of the block. She was a lady highly respected by a large circle of friends. The deceased attended at the First M. E. church. She leaves two sons, Frank and William Treat of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Henrietta Marvin of Bridgeport and Mrs. Jane Cross of Southington.

SCOTCH NOTES.

One would have thought that the mere fact that a "Yale professor" was to lecture on Carlyle would have been sufficient to bring together a large representation of his countrymen, but it was not so, as only a mere sprinkling of the Scotch community were present at the United church Sunday night, when Professor Phelps delivered a more than interesting address on the great writer as a "Religious teacher." The reason for this can only be attributed to one fact and that insufficient publicity. Rev. Dr. Phelps is an ardent admirer of Carlyle, and those who were absent missed a rare treat.

Clan McLeod No. 3, Order of Scottish Clans, will install their new officers on Thursday evening. The installing officer will be Royal Deputy Frank Finkle of Bridgeport.

The members of the New Haven Caledonian club will hold their annual hogmanay sociable at St. George's hall to-night. A concert and dance will take place and the New Year will be ushered in as usual with the singing of "Auld New Year to ane and a'." After which the old Scottish custom of first footing will be indulged in.

The new chief of the Caledonian club, John Brown, has now been selected to that honorable position for the sixth time in the club's history. During the twenty-five years of its existence he has been a continuous member and is the only charter member that remains on the roll as such. The club has had put in an elegant frame and hung in their hall the pictures of the chiefs, twenty in number, who have served the club in that capacity since it was organized in 1870, which will act as a lasting memento of its first quarter of a century.

John Low of F. M. Brown & Co.'s dress goods department will sail by the Teutonic on Wednesday for Liverpool. He will spend the next couple of months visiting his relatives and friends in Bonnie Scotland.

The many friends of John Rowan who has been very sick at his home, 24 Gill street, with Bright's disease, will be pleased to learn that he is feeling slightly better during the last three days.

George Wallace, a prominent member of Clan McLeod, has been unanimously selected secretary of Beacon lodge, N. E. O. F.

"Auld New Year to ane and a' And many may you see, And during a' the years to come O happy may you be."
